

Project Assurance

Friday 25th November

There have been many well publicised project failures in both the public and commercial sectors.

The Standish Group's most recent survey in 2009 into the success of IT projects concluded that:

- Only 32% of IT projects were considered successful
- 24% were outright failures
- 44% were considered challenged

Gartner research estimates that $600 billion is wasted annually on ill-concieved, or ill-executed projects.

If you want to improve the chance of your organisation delivering a successful project, then this seminar will be a valuable use of your time. It will bring you real benefits in your day job, whether you are in:

- Senior IT or business management
- Project management
- Internal Audit
- Compliance Management
- Line Management

This seminar will help you understand some of the most common risks facing a project and how to reduce the risk of project failure.

You will learn how to:-

- ✓ Gain an understanding of some of the common reasons why projects fail.
- ✓ Understand where risks are likely to occur throughout the project life cycle.
- ✓ Gain an understanding of risk management techniques and how these can be applied to projects.
- ✓ Apply some practical techniques in assessing and evaluating project risk.
- ✓ Adopt these new skills during the seminar so you can effectively put them into practice from day one.
